A student who has had a previous federal education loan discharged due to Total and Permanent Disability (TPD) may, under certain circumstances, borrow a new federal student loan. However, it may be necessary to resume repayment on the previously discharged loan.

Borrower's Acknowledgement Statement

By signing this document, I acknowledge that any new Federal Student Aid loans that I may qualify for cannot be discharged in the future for any present impairment unless it deteriorates so that I am again totally and permanently disabled. I am also aware that before I can receive any Federal Student Aid loans, I must obtain a physician's certification stating that I can engage in "Substantial gainful activity". A Borrower's Acknowledgement Statement must be completed before any Federal Student Aid loans are received.

In addition, I have also read and understand the information given on the back of this form.

Your hand-written signature is required on all forms, electronic signatures are not acceptable on official documents.

Warning: Any person who knowingly and willingly makes a false statement or misrepresentation on this form or any accompanying document is subject to penalties that may include fines, imprisonment, or both, under the U.S. Criminal Code and 20 U.S.C. 1097.

Note: (1) The student must sign a new acknowledgment for the school each time they receive a new loan after a disability discharge.

(2)The physician's certification is required only once before the student may borrow new federal student loans after a disability discharge. The school will maintain this certification in the student's files.
